

Thank you to all who participated in the RDFCC 25 mile TT today!

It was a pleasure to run the event today. As you may have gathered, the prize allocation didn't go to plan. I was looking forward to chatting to you all at the end - but had a few last minute issues with calculating the Vets Standard - largely caused by having not raced for a few years and being out of sync with how this works.

I apologise for this - and If you feel you should have won something and didn't - please contact me.

I wasn't planning on giving prizes initially - and wanted to keep the entry fee low instead. As we had plenty of entrants I thought we'd give away the spare cash as prizes. We'll review this approach in time for next year.

I hope you all enjoyed the TT though. We loved running it and look forward to seeing you next year.

Thanks for riding!

Dave
