Chris Hart

Chris took on the job of District Secretary towards the end of 2007 and quite quickly demonstrated what an administrative talent the District had been hiding for so many years. His was a comparatively short span but possibly the most memorable.

His contribution included the successful introduction of and amendment to some of the Rules and Regulations of Cycling Time Trials, a feat that those who had tried before can testify could not be achieved without persistence, and the ability to argue the case, sometimes for years!

Chris was a time triallist for 56 years and it was only after his sad departure that the London West Committee discovered what a valuable servant to the District he had become. We miss him still. This is the fifth of these memorial events and they serve to remind us all of those whose dedication is responsible for the existence of sport and pastimes.
