

Rider instructions:

Fit the timing chip to your bike as per the provided instructions.

Approach the start line as usual but ensuring that you cross the timing loop that will be taped to the road (blue line in the drawing), this identifies you to the timing system knows who you are.

Position your bike at the start without activating the start switch, the switch will be a green line on the road (also the green line on the drawing). A beep will be emitted if the switch is activated, if this has been done by mistake it can be corrected.

Follow the starters instruction as usual and begin your race.

As your front wheel activates the previously mentioned switch your time will start

The finish line at the top of the hill will have another timing line and this will finish your time.

Your provisional time will be displayed on a screen at the top of the hill and will be accurate to 0.01secs
