

Tickhill Velo Open Hill Climb 09/10/22 - Results

Thank you for taking part in our event today, we were really blessed with the weather and hopefully you had a good event and did well with your time.

It was good to be able to do the post event presentation and brilliant that so many were able to stay behind for a cup of tea and a slice of homemade cake! The refreshments were free of charge but there were several donations left totalling £26.40, thank you very much, this will be added to our 2022 charity cause helping raise money to equip local cyclist Brett Daughtery to take part in the Paralympic triathlon.

I mentioned it at the presentation, but it bears repeating a few thank yous, the riders who attended today, if you were unable to attend hopefully, you'll have better luck next year. Spread the word when you're out on your club rides, CTT events are better with bigger fields so try to encourage someone who hasn't taken part before to give it ago.

Thanks to Christine and Phil Minto for timing our event in their usual professional manner. I need to thank the members of Tickhill Velo Club who volunteered as marshals doing their usual fantastic job before, during and after the event allowing us to deliver today's hill climb. Chris Orange and the Carr Village Hall team for the refreshments. Don Valley Cycles who are key sponsors of both our open CTT events in 2022 and I'd like to thank them for their continued support of Tickhill Velo Club and the wider North Midlands cycling community.

Finally, I'd like to say a big thank you to the family, friends and club mates who turned out in the autumn sunshine to cheer, ring cow bells, bang saucepans and shout encouragement to every rider and a couple of ladies jogging! It makes a huge difference when you think you've got nothing left in the tank.

I have attached a copy of the fully result sheet for your information, but the prize winners were:
